TERMINAL 4's EIGHTH CONCOURSE Media Kit

Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport's Eighth Concourse at Terminal 4 opens to the public on June 20, 2022. The new $310 million eight-gate concourse adds 275,000 square feet in space and serves Southwest Airlines.

The concourse also adds 130,000 new square feet to of world class dining and retail options for travelers to enjoy while visiting the airport.

In fact, Phoenix Sky Harbor's goal is to provide a mix of national and local brands for Phoenix passengers, including local business and minority representation.

The concourse offers an array of customer amenities. The project includes a variety of features including a new transfer bridge connecting the south concourses to the north. This means travelers can easily connect between A and D gates.

Baggage handling upgrades we also made. The new baggage handling system is about 1.5 miles of conveyor belts through four underground tunnels to facilitate the transfer of baggage from the ticket counter to TSA for screening before being transferred to each of the four south concourses.

To take advantage of these landscapes, the new concourse boasts 14,000 square foot of electrochromic glazing which is intelligent, tinted glass for enhanced passenger comfort and improved energy efficiency. The View Smart window technologies use artificial intelligence to automatically adjust to the sun so passengers can comfortably sit right up next to the windows without experiencing excessive heat or glare.

To further capture the uniquely Arizona feel of this concourse, a Diamondhead Baffle ceiling mimicking the sand dunes of the desert hangs in the concourse. The materials used were made from recycled water bottles.

The "Amenities Zone" includes a nursing room, family restroom, Animal Relief Area, vending and ATM machines. Phoenix Light, Phoenix Rising is a massive art installation created by Los Angeles artist Susan Logoreci. The immersive, art project consists of a 30-foot by 300-foot terrazzo floor and 28 two-foot by three-foot airplane window shaped, terrazzo wall pieces.

It is a captivating, progressive experience, taking the viewer from the city at night through sun drenched, local landscapes. Inspired by the notion of an aerial view, the floor depicts views of the Phoenix landscape. When the viewer enters the connector bridge to the concourse, they will look down and see night-lights illuminating the gridded streets of neighborhoods.

The images gradually change to a lighter, dawn lit view of scattered houses and streets. As the viewer continues, the colors get lighter, the houses and roads disappear into familiar, agricultural fields before ending in the golden mountains that surround Phoenix.

On the walls, there are airplane window shaped terrazzo pieces. Eight are of night city images and the remaining 20 depict mountain images. The images and colors correlate to images on the floor nearest to them.

Fabricated from original paintings, this unique, contemporary art installation blends abstraction and realism to draw the viewer in. It gives them a contemplative and delightful experience while connecting them to local landscapes whether the viewer is local or transitory.

The artist-designed bridges connecting terminal concourses and PHX Sky Train® stations offer passengers pauses of beauty in the rush of travel. This new design will also create an enchanting and pleasurable transition for passengers as they progress from the security checkpoint to the boarding gates. It is the 12th terrazzo floor that artists have designed for the airport's PHX Sky Train® and terminal expansions over the past decade.

The new concourse will feature a variety of local, regional and national dining concepts as well as nationally recognized shops that offer travelers the ability to purchase local merchandise by area-favorite retailers.

Restaurants and shops will open in phases through 2022 and 2023. Food and beverage kiosks as well as retail kiosks will be available to customers until the shops and restaurants are fully completed.

The Eighth Concourse will also feature a common use lounge. AD Partnership LLC dba Chase Sapphire Lounge by the Club has received the award recommendation. The Chase Sapphire Lounge by The Club will feature 3,500-square-feet of space and provide travelers a place to relax or work. The lounge will highlight many local elements and feature a specially curated menu. The lounge will be open to travelers of all airlines, and access will be available to Chase Sapphire Reserve cardmembers, as well as Members of Priority Pass or by purchasing a day pass.
